RIDE TO END DOG FIGHTING
JUNE 24, 2017

looking forward to #8

The dog pictured above is named Renato, which is Latin for rebirth. He's a survivor of Milwaukee's 2011 dogfighting bust. He also survived 22 months in MADACC as "evidence". On April 1st of 2013 the Brew City Bully Club took him into their rescue program and began his rebirth.

It took 14months for Renato to build trust, to understand love and to discover what it means to just be a dog. It took months of desensitization to sudden movements and resensitization to human touch. The hard work and dedication of BCBC volunteers and Renato himself resulted in his adoption to a loving forever home during the summer of 2014.
